What we make

Rigid plastic holders with a card channel for one, two or three standard CR80 ID cards and a molded pocket for one or two RSA SecurID SID700-style hardware tokens. The token display shows through a window, so a staff member reads the passcode without removing anything. Cards slide in and out, so a CAC can be pulled for a card reader. A standard lanyard slot takes a lanyard clip or badge reel. The holder is plain plastic with no batteries, radios or wireless parts. Colors: black, blue, green, red, orange, purple, yellow, pink.

Who it serves

Staff in offices and facilities where personal phones are not allowed and a hardware token replaces a phone authenticator, and the security managers, IT administrators and purchase card holders who equip them. Over 200,000 holders sold since 2018, primarily to U.S. government agencies and contractors.
